CONGRATULATIONS!

First of all, thank you so much for reaching out regarding your upcoming wedding - congratulations on this huge milestone!

It may seem far away now, but this day will be filled with wonderful moments, teary eyes, clinking glasses, and it would be a great honor and joy for me to be a part of your celebration! As a wedding photographer, my main goal is to capture every little detail so that the photos can help you relive the moments of your wedding even many years from now, reminding you of how it felt to be there.

CAPTURING YOUR SPECIAL DAY

Smiles, laughter and craziness on the dancefloor - each moment is important in your story, and I'll make sure to capture them, even those moments you might not have noticed in the excitement of the day .

I'll be there with you at every event of the day, sometimes in the background, sometimes in the front row, following you like a shadow so I don't miss anything.

This is your big day, preceded by lots of planning, excitement, and anticipation. I sincerely promise that I'll put all my energy into delivering a gallery that truly preserves the essence of this special day. My goal is that when you look through the gallery, you'll almost feel like you're there again, as if it was just yesterday - even years and decades from now.

That's why I'm looking forward to capturing your day.

HELLO, I'M EMMA!

A creative soul and hopeless romantic.

I'm a true sentimental type, always fascinated by genuine, deep human connections. I believe it's the sum of small moments that makes life what it is, and these are the ones that matter most. I fell in love with weddings because these days are full of such moments, with an entire little universe hidden in just one day. Capturing these moments is magic to me - it energizes and motivates me.

I can't wait to talk and hear your story and how you envision your wedding!

KIND WORDS

"And only the essence remained, what was truly important on this entire day... the intimacy, the 'everything is written on the faces,' the 'pictures speak for themselves' feeling... Thank you. We are infinitely grateful."

— Liza & Geri

ENGAGEMENT SESSION

just the two of you, authentically

An engagement session is a couple's photoshoot that takes place a few months before the wedding. It's a relaxed shoot that helps us get to know each other and helps you feel comfortable in front of the camera. In my experience, every engagement session is a little adventure, a quality time spent together for you both before the wedding rush.

It's a perfect opportunity to create honest, natural images of you being your true selves.

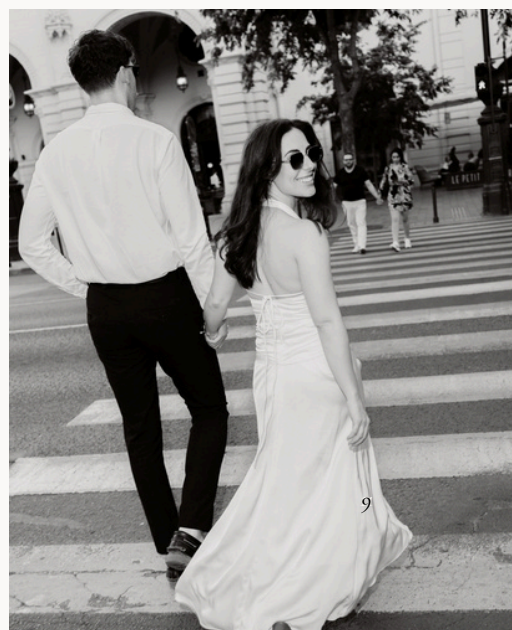

Before the shoot, we'll talk about the mood you want, and we'll choose the location based on that.

WANT TO TALK IT OVER?

Let's plan it!

Feel free to contact me—whether in person or online—so we can talk and you can ask all the questions you have to ensure that you can imagine me being there on your big day as your photographer.
